ELEMENTARY ENGLISH

William A. Jenkins, Editor

Volume XXXIX

January-December 1962

Subscription Rate—$5.00 for one year of eight issues
Copyright, 1962, by The National Council
of Teachers of English. Published at Champaign, Illinois
and Danville, Illinois

ELEMENTARY ENGLISH

William A. Jenkins, Editor

Volume XXXIX

January-December 1962

Subscription Rate—$5.00 for one year of eight issues
Copyright, 1962, by The National Council
of Teachers of English. Published at Champaign, Illinois
and Danville, Illinois

Index Volume XXXIX

A. A. Milne and Today's Seven-Year-Olds—Agnes G. Gunderson and Ethel Gunderson, 408.

Abernathy, Helen B. and Earlene Burgett—Let's Write a Poem, 119.

Adler, Mae—Picture Me, 815.

Allen, Harold B.—With New Endeavor, 75.

Another Year of Research in Language Arts Instruction: 1961—Paul C. Burns and Vernon E. Troxel, 549.

Appreciation of Some Modern Picture Books, An—Eloise Rue, 314.

Archer, Marguerite P.—A Baker's Dozen in Juvenile Fiction, 324.

Archer, Marguerite P.—Library Opportunities for Children in the Primary Grades, 109.

Arduser, Ruth H.—When I Held a Conch Shell to My Ear, 42.

Arnold, Frieda—Individualized Reading and the Language Arts, 269.

Baker's Dozen in Juvenile Fiction, A—Marguerite P. Archer, 324.

Beginner Begin—Russell F. Schleicher, 556.

Bjonerud, Corwin, Jack Yuen, Dewey Chambers, and Lawrence Carrillo—The Electric Portable Typewriter as an Instructional Tool in Fourth Grade Language Arts, 101.

Blake, Howard E.—A Code for Teachers of Listening, 48.

Blueprint for Reading, A—William H. Graves, Jr., 246.

Books for Beginning Readers—Anna M. Fagerlie, 189.

Books to Challenge the Able—Helen Renthal, 796.

Bovyer, George G.—Stories and Children's Concepts of Sportsmanship in the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Grades, 762.

Burgett, Earlene and Helen B. Abernathy—Let's Write a Poem, 119.

Burkart, Ann Kammerling and George L. Lewis—Creative Dramatics: A Selective Bibliography, 91.

Burns, Paul C.—Research in Language Arts for the Library-Oriented Mentally Advanced Pupil, Grades 4, 5, 6, 427.

Burns, Paul C. and Ruth Hines—North Carolina's Thelma and Corydon Bell, 757.

Burns, Paul C. and Vernon E. Troxel—Another Year of Research in Language Arts Instruction: 1961, 549.

Burrows, Alvina Treut—Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Literature, 321.

Cadenhead, Kenneth—A Plan for Individualizing Reading Instruction, 260.

Campanale, Eugene A.—Survey of Methods in the Teaching of Spelling, 446.

Can I Be a Teaching Machine?—Irma Dovey, 355.

Can We Drive the Demons out of Spelling?—Ruth Popofsky, 456.

Carner, Richard L.—The Effect of Televised Reading Instruction on Attitudes Toward Reading, 234.

Carrillo, Lawrence and Corwin Bjonerud, Dewey Chambers, and Jack Yuen—The Electric Portable Typewriter as an Instructional Tool in Fourth Grade Language Arts, 101.

Casmir, Fred L.—Search for Reality, 803.

Challenge of Phonics, The—Sophie Freeman, 250.

Chambers, Dewey and Corwin Bjonerud, Lawrence Carrillo and Jack Yuen—The Electric Portable Typewriter as an Instructional Tool in Fourth Grade Language Arts, 101.

Chambers, James and H. L. Smith—Phonics—The Only Way of Teaching Reading? 253.

Children Can Read Plays, Too—Paul T. Nolan, 699.

Children's Reading Choices and Basic Reader Content—Ruth G. Smith, 202.

Classics of Children's Literature, The—A. Montgomery Johnston, 412.

Clymer, Theodore—Research Design in the Language Arts, 349.

Code for Teachers of Listening, A—Howard E. Blake, 48.

College Classes Choose Favorite Children's Books—Pearl L. Ward, 680.

Core Vocabulary Study in the Elementary Grades, A—Glenn R. Johnson, 470.

Creative Dramatics: A Selective Bibliography —George L. Lewis and Ann Kammerling Burkart, 91.

Creativity: "A Rainbow in the Sky"—Vivian H. Dunlop, 41.

Criteria for Selection of Poems—Maxine Thompson, 816.

Daniel, John E.—The Effectiveness of Various Procedures in Reading Level Placement, 590.

Davis, David C.—Phantoms in Children's Literature, 403.

Davis, David C.—What the Cat in the Hat Begat, 677.

Dees, Margaret—Easy to Read, 418.

Developing Tastes in Literature in the Elementary Grades, Part I—Helen Huus, 780.

Development of Independent Spelling Skills in the Intermediate Grades—Robert Gilstrap, 481.

Docter, Robert L.—Reading Workbooks: Boon or Busywork? 224.

Dolch, Edward W.—Individualized Reading vs. Group Reading, II, 14.

Dovey, Irma—Can I Be a Teaching Machine? 355.

Dragons—in General—Vera D. Petersen, 3.

Dunlop, Vivian H.—Creativity: "A Rainbow in the Sky," 41.

Durkin, Dolores—Kindergarten and Reading, 274.

Dyadic Reading—Frank W. Lanning, 244.

Eakin, Gladys and Eugene S. Spence—Team Teaching and Independent Reading, 266.

Early, Margaret—A Summary of Investigations Relating to the English Language Arts in Elementary Education, 1961, 336.

Easy to Read—Margaret Dees, 418.

Edwards, D. Lewis—Teaching Beginners the Purpose of Reading, 194.

Effect of Televised Reading Instruction on Attitudes Toward Reading, The—Richard L. Carner, 234.

Effectiveness of Various Procedures in Reading Level Placement, The—John E. Daniel, 590.

Effects of Childhood Bilingualism, I—J. Vernon Jensen, 132.

Effects of Childhood Bilingualism, II—J. Vernon Jensen, 358.

Eisman, Edward—Individualized Spelling, 478.

Electric Portable Typewriter as an Instructional Tool in Fourth Grade Language Arts, The—Corwin Bjonerud, Lawrence Carrillo, Dewey Chambers, and Jack Yuen, 101.

Evans, N. Dean—Individualized Reading—Myths and Facts, 580.

Everhart, Rodney W.—The School as a Communication Laboratory, 129.

Exploration Point!—Gertrude J. Jansens, 22.

Fagerlie, Anna M.—Books for Beginning Readers, 189.

Fiction in an Elementary School Library—Marie Van Aken, 326.

Fifty Books They Can't Resist—Marvin Martin, 415.

First Comes the Word—Florence W. Schwinger, 486.

Frazier, Alexander—Individualized Reading: More Than New Forms and Formulas, 809.

Freeman, Sophie—The Challenge of Phonics, 250.

Furness, Edna L.—Pupils, Poetry, and Pedagogues, 601.

Gilstrap, Robert—The Development of Independent Spelling Skills in the Intermediate Grades, 481.

Gordon, John E.—They Want to Be Somebody, 770.

Graves, William H., Jr.—A Blueprint for Reading, 246.

Groff, Patrick J.—The Most Highly-Esteemed Children's Poems, 587.

Groff, Patrick J.—Spelling and Language Achievement of Left-Handed Children, 466.

Gunderson, Agnes G. and Ethel Gunderson—A. A. Milne and Today's Seven-Year-Olds, 408.

Gunderson, Ethel and Agnes G. Gunderson—A. A. Milne and Today's Seven-Year-Olds, 408.

Haimbach, David—Organizing Thinking, 114.

Hall, Norman—Individualize Your Spelling Instruction, 476.

Harney, Irene E.—Prose-Poetry: A Comparison, 794.

Harrell, Penelope—Hooray for Fantasy! 710.

Heart-Side of Reading, The—Ruth S. White, 186.

Heffron, Pearl M.—Our American Slang, 429.

Higgins, James E.—The Poet and the Child, 806.

Hill, Jeraldine—Teaching Critical Reading in the Middle Grades, 239.

Hines, Ruth and Paul C. Burns—North Carolina's Thelma and Corydon Bell, 757.

Homze, Alma Cross—Reading and the Self-Concept, 210.

Hooray for Fantasy!—Penelope Harrell, 710.

Hostetler, Beverly—What Does Individualized Reading Mean to You? 263.

Huck, Charlotte S.—Planning the Literature Program for the Elementary School, 307.

Huus, Helen—Developing Taste in Literature in the Elementary Grades, I, 780.

Individualize Your Spelling Instruction—Norman Hall, 476.

Individualized Reading—Allaire Stuart, 256.

Individualized Reading and the Language Arts—Frieda Arnold, 269.

Individualized Reading: More Than New Forms and Formulas—Alexander Frazier, 809.

Individualized Reading—Myths and Facts—N. Dean Evans, 580.

Individualized Reading vs. Group Reading, II—Edward W. Dolch, 14.

Individualized Spelling—Edward Eisman, 478.

Innocent in Language Arts Land, An—Mary Jo Woodfin, 11.

Is There a Personality Pattern Common to Successful Readers?—Jerry G. Keshian, 229.

Jansens, Gertrude J.—Exploration Point! 22.

Jenkins, William A.—Time That Is Intolerant, 84.

Jenkins, William A. and Erwin R. Steinberg—Needed Research in the Teaching of the Elementary School Language Arts, 790.

Jensen, J. Vernon—Effects of Childhood Bilingualism, I, 132.

Jensen, J. Vernon—Effects of Childhood Bilingualism, II, 358.

Johnson, Glenn R.—A Core Vocabulary Study in the Elementary Grades, 470.

Johnson, Lois V.—Problems in Evaluation of Writing, 570.

Johnston, A. Montgomery—The Classics of Children's Literature, 412.

Kazlov, Gertrude—Poetry to Teach By, 7.

Kermoian, Samuel B.—Teacher Appraisal of First Grade Readiness, 196.

Keshian, Jerry G.—Is There a Personality Pattern Common to Successful Readers? 229.

Kindergarten and Reading—Dolores Durkin, 274.

Kinsella, Paul J. and Paul Witty—A Report on Televiewing in 1961, 24.

Kinsella, Paul J. and Paul Witty—Televiewing: Some Observations from Studies 1949-1962, 772.

Lanning, Frank W.—Dyadic Reading, 244.

Larger Aspects of Spelling Reform, The—John R. Malone, 435.

Learning to Spell Is Learning to See—Elizabeth Toohy, 474.

Legend of the Trees, The—Jesse Stuart, 426.

Lembke, Ruch C.—We Met Aurora Labastida of Mexico, 46.

Let's Write a Poem—Helen B. Abernathy and Earlene Burgett, 119.

Lettvin, Lorelei—Stories to Dramatize, 766.

Lewis, George L. and Ann Kammerling Burkart—Creative Dramatics: A Selective Bibliography, 91.

Library Opportunities for Children in the Primary Grades—Marguerite P. Archer, 109.

Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Literature—Alvina Treut Burrows, 321.

Linguist Looks at Reading: Leonard Bloomfield and the Phonemic Criterion, A—B. Robert Tabachnick, 545.

"Linguistic" Instruction in the Teaching of Reading: Kill or Cure?—Jeannette Veatch, 231.

Linguistics: An Overview—George H. Owen, 421.

Listening: Directions for Research—Walter P. Petty, 574.

"Lives of Great Men All Remind Us . . ."—Gaither McConnell, 713.

Lynd Ward: Artist, Writer, and Scholar—Helen W. Painter, 663.

Machine Teaching and the Psychology of Learning—Frederic J. Schaefer, 357.

Malone, John R.—The Larger Aspects of Spelling Reform, 435.

Martin, Marvin—Fifty Books They Can't Resist, 415.

Mingoia, Edwin—Possible Causes of Underachievement in Reading, 220.

More Than Remedial Reading—Riva R. Reich, 216.

Mortimer, Owen—Should the Teacher Use the Cane? 367.

Morton Schindel: Creator of "Picture Book Parade"—Ruth B. Walter, 685.

Most Highly-Esteemed Children's Poems, The —Patrick J. Groff, 587.

McConnell, Gaither—"Lives of Great Men All Remind Us . . .," 713.

McCreary, Anne P.—A Reconsideration of Classics for Children, 330.

Needed Research in the Language Arts—Carlton M. Singleton, 495.

Needed Research in the Teaching of the Elementary School Language Arts—Erwin R. Steinberg and William A. Jenkins, 790.

New Directions in Language Learning—James R. Squire, 535.

Nolan, Paul T.—Children Can Read Plays, Too, 699.

North Carolina's Thelma and Corydon Bell—Paul C. Burns and Ruth Hines, 757.

Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare—Project English, 144.

Organizing Thinking—David Haimbach, 114.

Our American Slang—Pearl M. Heffron, 429.

Owen, George H.—Linguistics: An Overview, 421.

Painter, Helen W.—Lynd Ward: Artist, Writer, and Scholar, 663.

Petersen, Vera D.—Dragons—in General, 3.

Petty, Walter T.—Listening: Directions for Research, 574.

Petty, Walter T. and Gus P. Plessas—The Spelling Plight of the Poor Reader, 463.

Phantoms in Children's Literature—David C. Davis, 403.

Phonics—The Only Way of Teaching Reading?—H. L. Smith and James Chambers, 253.

Picture Me—Mae Adler, 815.

Plan for Individualizing Reading Instruction, A—Kenneth Cadenhead, 260.

Planning the Literature Program for the Elementary School—Charlotte S. Huck, 307.

Please Come—to a Book Week Party—Lynn Latkin Solomon, 578.

Plessas, Gus P. and Walter T. Petty—The Spelling Plight of the Poor Reader, 463.

Poet and the Child, The—James E. Higgins, 806.

Poetry to Teach By—Gertrude Kazlov, 7.

Popofsky, Ruth—Can We Drive the Demons out of Spelling? 456.

Possible Causes of Underachievement in Reading—Edwin Mingoia, 220.

Problems in Evaluation of Writing—Lois V. Johnson, 570.

Project English—Office of Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 144.

Prose-Poetry: A Comparison—Irene E. Harney, 794.

Pupils, Poetry, and Pedagogues—Edna L. Furness, 601.

Quick Phonics Readiness Check for Retarded Readers, A—Vita G. Schach, 584.

Reading and the Self-Concept—Alma Cross Homze, 210.

Reading Poetry to Children—Gwendella Thornley, 691.

Reading Workbooks: Boon or Busywork?—Robert L. Docter, 224.

Reconsideration of Classics for Children, A—Anne P. McCreary, 330.

Reich, Riva R.—More Than Remedial Reading, 216.

Renthal, Helen—Books to Challenge the Able, 796.

Report on Televiewing in 1961, A—Paul A. Witty and Paul J. Kinsella, 24.

Research Design in the Language Arts—Theodore Clymer, 349.

Research in Language Arts for the Library-Oriented Mentally Advanced Pupil, Grades 4, 5, 6—Paul C. Burns, 427.

Research in the Language Arts—Ralph C. Staiger, 490.

Research into Variations of the Test-Study Plan of Teaching Spelling—Hugh Schoephoerster, 460.

Role of Reading in the Social Studies, The—Paul A. Witty, 562.

Rue, Eloise—An Appreciation of Some Modern Picture Books, 314.

Schach, Vita G.—A Quick Phonics Readiness Check for Retarded Readers, 584.

Schaefer, Frederic J.—Machine Teaching and the Psychology of Learning, 357.

Schleicher, Russell F.—Beginner Begin, 556.

Schoephoerster, Hugh—Research into Variations of the Test-Study Plan of Teaching Spelling, 460.

School as a Communication Laboratory, The—Rodney W. Everhart, 129.

Schwinger, Florence W.—First Comes the Word, 486.

Search for Reality—Fred L. Casmir, 803.

Shepard, John P.—The Treatment of Characters in Popular Children's Fiction, 672.

Should the Teacher Use the Cane?—Owen Mortimer, 367.

Singleton, Carlton M.—Needed Research in the Language Arts, 495.

Smith, H. L. and James Chambers—Phonics—The Only Way of Teaching Reading? 253.

Smith, Nila Banton—Why Should We Develop Taste in Literature? 702.

Smith, Ruth G.—Children's Reading Choices and Basic Reader Content, 202.

Solomon, Lynn Latkin—Please Come—to a Book Week Party, 578.

Spelling and Language Achievement of Left-Handed Children—Patrick J. Groff, 466.

Spelling Plight of the Poor Reader, The—Gus P. Plessas and Walter T. Petty, 463.

Spence, Eugene S. and Gladys A. Eakin—Team Teaching and Independent Reading, 266.

Split Vu Reading—Daniel Ungaro, 237.

Squire, James R.—New Directions in Language Learning, 535.

Staiger, Ralph C.—Research in the Language Arts, 490.

Stegall, Carrie—Take a Number from One to Ten, 33.

Steinberg, Erwin R. and William A. Jenkins—Needed Research in the Teaching of the Elementary School Language Arts, 790.

Stories and Children's Concepts of Sportsmanship in the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Grades—George G. Bovyer, 762.

Stories to Dramatize—Lorelei Joy Lettvin, 766.

Strang, Ruth—A Synthetic Approach to the Teaching of Reading, 558.

Stuart, Allaire—Individualized Reading, 256.

Stuart, Jesse—The Legend of the Trees, 426.

Summary of Investigations Relating to the English Language Arts in Elementary Education, 1961, A—Margaret Early, 336.

Survey of Methods in the Teaching of Spelling—Eugene A. Campanale, 446.

Synthetic Approach to the Teaching of Reading, A—Ruth Strang, 558.

Tabachnick, B. Robert—A Linguist Looks at Reading: Leonard Bloomfield and the Phonemic Criterion, 545.

Take a Number from One to Ten—Carrie Stegall, 33.

Taylor, Mark—Writing for Children: A Challenge and a Vision, 799.

Teacher Appraisal of First Grade Readiness—Samuel B. Kermoian, 196.

Teaching Beginners the Purpose of Reading—D. Lewis Edwards, 194.

Teaching Critical Reading in the Middle Grades—Jeraldine Hill, 239.

Team Teaching and Independent Reading —Gladys A. Eakin and Eugene S. Spence, 266.

Televiewing: Some Observations from Studies 1949-1962—Paul Witty and Paul J. Kinsella, 772.

They Want to Be Somebody—John E. Gordon, 770.

Thompson, Maxine—Criteria for Selection of Poems, 816.

Thornley, Gwendella—Reading Poetry to Children, 691.

Time That Is Intolerant—William A. Jenkins, 84.

Toohy, Elizabeth—Learning to Spell Is Learning to See, 474.

Treatment of Characters in Popular Children's Fiction, The—John P. Shepard, 672.

Troxel, Vernon E. and Paul C. Burns—Another Year of Research in Language Arts Instruction: 1961, 549.

Ungaro, Daniel—Split Vu Reading, 237.

Van Aken, Marie—Fiction in an Elementary School Library, 326.

Veatch, Jeannette—"Linguistic" Instruction in the Teaching of Reading: Kill or Cure? 231.

Walter, Ruth B.—Morton Schindel: Creator of "Picture Book Parade," 685.

Ward, Pearl L.—College Classes Choose Favorite Children's Books, 680.

We Met Aurora Labastida of Mexico—Ruth C. Lembke, 46.

Wesley, Frank and Mary Wesley—Why Ivan Can Read, 191.

Wesley, Mary and Frank Wesley—Why Ivan Can Read, 191.

What Does Individualized Reading Mean to You?—Beverly Hostetler, 263.

What the Cat in the Hat Begat—David C. Davis, 677.

When I Held a Conch Shell to My Ear—Ruth H. Arduser, 42.

White, Ruth S.—The Heart-Side of Reading, 186.

Why Ivan Can Read—Frank Wesley and Mary Wesley, 191.

Why Should We Develop Taste in Literature? —Nila Banton Smith, 702.

With New Endeavor—Harold B. Allen, 75.

Witty, Paul A.—The Role of Reading in the Social Studies, 562.

Witty, Paul A. and Paul J. Kinsella—A Report on Televiewing in 1961, 24.

Witty, Paul A. and Paul J. Kinsella—Televiewing: Some Observations from Studies 1949-1962, 772.

Woodfin, Mary Jo—An Innocent in Language Arts Land, 11.

Words and Teaching—Agnes C. Zeeman, 484.

Writing for Children: A Challenge and a Vision—Mark Taylor, 799.

Yuen, Jack and Corwin Bjonerud, Lawrence Carrillo and Dewey Chambers—The Electric Portable Typewriter as an Instructional Tool in Fourth Grade Language Arts, 101.

Zeeman, Agnes C.—Words and Teaching, 484.

Position Available

•

Language Arts Coordinator —K-12. New York State certification as Elementary Supervisor and Secondary Supervisor in English required. Salary based on training and experience.

•

HERRICKS PUBLIC SCHOOLS
New Hyde Park
Long Island, New York